

Ms Lee Burns

Secretary

B.Arts (Economics & Management), M. of Bus Admin, Adv. Project Management

Lee started her career in the Australian Regular Army after completing Officer Training and the Australian Defence Force Academy and the Royal Military College. She spent 10 years as an Army Officer and gained invaluable experience that set her in good stead for her career post Army. Lee has a Project Management background facilitating business process re-engineering, change management and communication strategy. She has an interest in leadership development and organisational learning. This has led to a number of projects aimed at developing learning communities across geographically dispersed organisations.

Lee is actively involved in her local community and is on the board of the Kirk Foundation, a foundation established to support the needs of underprivileged children in Queanbeyan and the surrounding region. While Lee originated from Western Australia she spent the majority of her youth in Darwin. Lee has lived in regional Victoria and now resides in regional NSW.

Lee has served on the FAAW Board since 2008.
